

ICL Special Session Call for Papers

Title

Special Session: Social Networks Usage to Enhance Students Experiences in Higher Education

Acronym SoNetHE

Overview

The proliferation of social networks in everyday life is causing significant change in human relations and is changing the methods and modes of interaction between people be they friends, relatives, business associates, peers, or any other. In universities, this impact is no less profound. The old student support networks have evolved into the more intricate, more complicated and more impactful virtual world. This has led to ubiquitous and pervasive environments that can improve or harm student - student relations, professor - student relations or even professor - professor relations.

Topics

Topics include but are not limited to:

- Cooperation in international education
- Enhancing student learning options
- Case studies in different academic programs
- Virtual student Internships
- Tutor university student collaboration
- Virtual work teams

Program Committee

Chair(s)

Omar H. Karam, Faculty of Informatics and Computer Science, The British University in Egypt (BUE), EGYPT omar.karam@bue.edu.eg

Samir Abou El-Seoud, Faculty of Informatics and Computer Science, The British University in Egypt (BUE), EGYPT, Samir.elseoud@bue.edu.eg

Members

- Sunil Vadera – Salford University, UK, s.vadera@salford.ac.uk
- Doru Ursutiu – Transylvania University of Brasov, Romania, udoru@unitbv.ro
- Mudasser Iqbal – London South Bank University, UK, m.iqbal.lsbu.ac.uk
- Mudasser F. Wyne - National University, USA, mwyne@nu.edu
- Hala Strohmer – University of South Carolina, USA, hala.strohmer@usca.edu
- Doaa El Zanfaly – Helwan University, Egypt, doaa.saad@fci.helwan.edu.eg
- Sherine Rady – Ain Shams University, Egypt, sherine.rady@cis.asu.edu.eg
- Marwa Salah – The British University in Egypt, Egypt, marwa.salah@bue.edu.eg
- Yasmine Afify – Ain Shams University, Egypt, yasmine.afify@cis.asu.edu.eg
- Nermeen Othman – The British University in Egypt, Egypt, nermeen.othman@bue.edu.eg